
Report generation is the artifact under study; perception, analysis and alert components are held fixed and are not evaluated here.